About the System

This tracker system is usually for business houses where the sales executives needs to visit certain areas to increase the sales of the business house or to do promotion for the products the business house is selling. Apart from that this system is also applicable for daily attendance for the employees in the business house.

Assume you have a group of sales representative/executives working for you. They daily come to office and their immediate supervisors asks them to visit certain areas in the cities for various tasks like collecting orders from the dealers, providing them sample of your products and many more. There is no way you will be able to know that your employees have really gone to the mentioned areas.

This system will help you out. It will help you to locate the employees whereabouts and will let you know whether your employees have really done their scheduled work of visting the allocated areas. You can also track the whereabouts of your employees whether they are in office or not.

With the available weekly, monthly and yearly report system your easily judge the performace of your employees.
